Course overview

Duration: 3 days / 24 hours · Intermediate level

Why take this course

Contractors must be informed, assessed and monitored in a variety of ways to ensure their performance does not have a costly negative impact on your business. It is vital the actual performance of a contractor matches their stated intentions otherwise the statements and documents provided within any completed tender are meaningless leaving your organization and its reputation at risk.

The goal of this course is to explain the Contractor Safety Management (CSM) practices, policies and procedures in a process or operational environment. The major focus is to develop competent CSM leaders who can plan and execute all work that utilizes contractors.

Who it is for and how it helps

Project, procurement, and supply chain managers, HSE specialists, auditors, engineers, and supervisors who want to know how to manage contractors.
