

Hesham Mokhtar

Инструктор

Delivering subsurface and production optimization technical solutions to E&P portfolio through an extensive 13+ years of petroleum reservoir engineering expertise with operating, service, and training entities. Hesham has strong analytical skills for result interpretations, and demonstrates good inter-personal skills. He experienced field studies for water injection, hydraulic fracturing, and reservoir simulation. He also has a hands-on experience with tight and fractured carbonate reservoirs.